

MICROSCHOOLING

What is it?

IS MICROSCHOOLING A GOOD FIT FOR YOUR CHILD?

DIFFERENT STYLES OF ORGANIZING

Microschools can be organized in variety of ways. Some are private schools, some serve homeschooled children and some are even designed as a school within a public school. Knowing this distinction and what is required of you is important.

VARIOUS MODELS

Microschools are small, flexible and innovative! There are a variety of models to choose from, everything from project-based, self-directed, faith-based, and so much more! This really gives you an opportunity to find a place where your child thrives!

UNCONVENTIONAL

The teaching and learning in a microschool can look vary different from a conventional schooling model. Education is tailored to the child in a microschool

COMMUNITY

Microschooling is relationship-based. Families and microschool founders form close communities. Families and educators are on the same team, working together to ensure the children are successful!
